POLICE MAKE BATON CHARGES IN LONDON

200 Communists In Demonstration.

PROTEST AGAINST REICHSTAG
FIRE TRIAL

London, To-day.

Two hundred Communists, including numerous women and girls, broke through a police cordon near the German Embassy yesterday, when demonstrators held a march protesting against the Reichstag fire trial.

After their ranks had been broken, the police rallied and charged the crowd with batons, scattering them after a brief scuffle.

Later one of the demonstrators was permitted to present a petition to the Embassy demanding the release of the accused.—Reuter.

Draught reforms in the constitution of the House of Lords, are urged in the report issued by a Joint Committee of Conservative Peers and M.P.s. It is stated that sex should be no disqualification. The members of the Committee of which the chairman is the Marquess of Salisbury, are unanimous in their decision. There are 18 peers of the United Kingdom in their own right, and four Scottish.

REFORM OF HOUSE OF LORDS UNDER WAY

Bill Introduced
To-morrow.

REDUCTION OF MEMBERS FROM 780 TO 300

London, To-day.

The House of Lords to-morrow launches its most contentious issue for years, when the Marquis Salisbury, former leader of the House of Lords, introduces his Bill for reform of the House of Lords.

The first reading is expected to be taken on broad principle, without details, in order to sound opinion, but Lord Salisbury, it is understood, will tentatively propose that membership be reduced from 700 to 300, in addition to the Royal Princes, the law lords, and some ecclesiastics.

The House would be empowered to delay legislation pending the approval of the country, while the House of Lords would be represented on a joint committee of both Houses for the certification of money bills.

The Government is expected to follow closely the trend opinion, as Ministerial circles are of the opinion that the Government should deal with the reform of the House of Lords in the lifetime of the present Parliament.—Reuter.

New York, To-day.

The Principality of Monaco is lodging an application in the Supreme Court for permission to sue the State of Mississippi for the repayment of interest of $100,000 worth of bonds on which Mississippi defaulted over 90 years ago.

Before the prosecution can proceed, the Supreme Court must annul the provision in the Mississippi Constitution of 1875 prohibiting the payment of bonds. The suit is expected to be heard in the near future.

"JUST MORE SPINACH," SAYS PRESIDENT

NO FREE GOLD MARKET

WILL PROBABLY INCREASE GOLD
PRICE TO RAISE COMMODITY PRICES

SPECIAL TO CHINA MAIL.

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received December 17, 7:45 p.m.)

WASHINGTON, YESTERDAY.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, IN A PERSONAL INTERVIEW, HAS CHARACTERISED THE REPORTS OF STABILISATION OF THE AMERICAN DOLLAR WITH THE POUND STERLING AND THE GOLD FRANC AS "JUST MORE SPINACH."

Asked whether a free gold market would be established, the President said no.

Senators told the "United Press" that they believe President Roosevelt intends increasing the gold price, not only for its effect on commodity prices, but also because he believes that further devaluation will satisfy the moderate Congressional inflationists.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

Persistent rumours last week were to the effect that the Federal Reserve, the Bank of England, and the Bank of France had agreed to stabilise the dollar on the basis of the gold value of U. S. $34.01, the present gold price, which represents a devaluation of 35 per cent.

Newhaven, Yesterday.

Fifteen Yale Professors have issued a statement protesting against President Roosevelt's monetary policy, and asserting that existing conditions are untimely for experimenting.

"We believe that the United States should immediately return to a free gold standard. Under no circumstances should the United States issue circulating Treasury notes or remonetise silver," the statement declares.

Professor Irving Fisher has disagreed with his colleagues and is supporting the President's programme.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

The Treasury is planning through a series of securities issues throughout the next four months, to reduce the sum so that the job will be done gradually, by April 15.—United Press, per S. C. New York, To-day.

The annual meeting of the Chase Bank, the world's largest bank, on January 9, is expected to produce big news.

Observers point out that the Chase Bank and the National City Bank stock have been at an almost identical price for several days. If this had occurred in corporation stock it might have caused Wall Street to talk of a merger, but in the present case it has not even developed into a rumour.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

The German Foreign Debt Conversion Office has announced that it is issuing U.S. $15,000,000 in script to defray the interest due between July 1 and December 31.

This is Germany's first step toward paying her securities obligations to American citizens.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

JAPANESE TO WITHDRAW FROM CHARHAR

Bandit Suppression
Only.

"NOT THE FIRST MOVE IN A WAR WITH RUSSIA"

Peking, To-day.

Interviewed by Chinese pressmen, Colonel Shibayama, Japanese military attaché here, emphasised that the present operations of the Kwangtung Army and Manchukuo troops under General Chang Hal-peng were directed solely against the bandits on the Jehol border and there was no ulterior motive behind them.

Colonel Shibayama announced the receipt of a telegram reporting suppression of the bandits in question, and said that consequently the Japanese and Manchukuo troops would be withdrawn in a few days.

Denying the rumours that Japan has entered Charhar as the first move in a war with Russia, Colonel Shibayama said that the Japanese and Manchukuo troops had been in the area for some time, and that the present operations were directed against the bandits on the Jehol border.—Reuter.

Dublin, To-day.

It is understood that General O'Duffy, leader of the Irish "Blue Shirts," who was arrested at Westport, County Mayo, yesterday, for wearing the uniform of the organisation, will be brought before a military tribunal at an early date. The organisation was recently declared illegal by President Eamon De Valera.

The military tribunal is empowered to impose sentences from terms of imprisonment to death.

"WILL NOT YIELD"

But De Valera Pleads
For Peace And Order.

Dublin, To-day.

Addressing a gathering of 10,000 at an open-air meeting at Tralee, the President of the Irish Free State, Mr. Eamon De Valera yesterday devoted his speech mainly to a plea for unity, discipline and peace and order.

He said that the Free State was at present being pressed by one of the biggest nations in the world, through economic means, to make them yield to unjust demands.

They were not going to yield, but peace was essential to maintain themselves against pressure.—Reuter.

NEW PORTUGUESE TARIFFS

Adoption Of Colonial

Lisbon, To-day.

A large slice of colonial preference has been granted by a decree reducing the tariffs on the rice imported from Portuguese colonies by 70 per cent and on other goods by 60 per cent. Sugar and tobacco are not affected.

The tariff on foreign rice has been increased by 10 per cent, simultaneously. All State establishments are compelled to use a number of colonial products, like tea and coffee, exclusively.—Reuter.

SPECIAL TO CHINA MAIL.
(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received December 18, 6:55 a.m.)

Washington, To-day.

Some observers are convinced that the United States will never collect another cent on the majority of war debts due.

They consider the European attitude to be that the debts issue has been laid to rest beside the German reparations.

So far, Britain and Italy are the only countries which have honoured the December 15 instalment. Britain made a token payment of U.S. $7,500,000 on December 15, while Italy indicated that she will also make a token payment.

The British payment, as in the case of that of June 15, was made pending final settlement. France and Belgium gave official notification of default on December 15.—United Press, per S. C. Gold Bar Co.

MANCHUKUO TARIFF RUMOURS

Alarm In Business
Circles.

COMPLETE BARRING-OUT OF
CHINESE GOODS

Tientsin, To-day.

Chinese business circles are alarmed by a "Mukden" report that the Manchukuo authorities are preparing to put up a high tariff wall against Chinese goods imported from China Proper, as from last month.

It is alleged that the Manchukuo authorities have a Customs policy which envisages the complete barring-out of Chinese goods within a period of three years. They will also make efforts to make Manchukuo industries independent of the raw materials from China Proper. The report is being widely circulated in business circles.—Central News Agency.

CHINESE SHIP IN DISTRESS

H.M.S. Whitehall Sent To Her Assistance.

WILDSWAN ARRIVES
FROM SHANGHAI

The s.s. Yuchi, Chinese-owned, is in distress and requiring immediate assistance, in latitude 27.38 degrees, longitude 120.02 degrees, condition serious. H.M.S. Whitehall has been instructed to proceed to her help. H.M.S. Wildswan arrived in Hong Kong to-day from Shanghai.

The approximate position of the Yuchi is directly north of Formosa, close to the coast of China. She is liable to be driven ashore, by the north-easterly winds now prevailing, on one of the many small islands which fringe the coast in this vicinity.

VESSEL BEACHED.

Later, The s.s. Yuchi has been beached in a cove under the Shroud Island Lighthouse and her passengers landed on the island.

The following message was received by the Naval Authorities this afternoon:—

The s.s. Yuchi bound for Shanghai from Foochow, carrying 147 passengers and crew, is beached by the head in a cove under the Shroud Island Lighthouse. She has 15 feet of water in her fore-hold at low water. H.M.S. Whitehall, which answered the distress signals this morning, is standing by the distressed ship until the arrival of a tug from Shanghai, which is expected to arrive at the Lighthouse to-morrow, (Tuesday) at noon.

All the passengers have been landed on Shroud Island.

FLOWERS FOR FORMAL WEAR

Fashion Reverts To Pre-War Style.

The dressmakers are being asked for flowers by request. These are worn with formal evening dresses
in true pre-war style.
There were three seen recently.
A blue panne Sauvage dress with an ostrich feather cape had a bunch of flame and red tulips on the shoulder. A handful of yellow irises adorned the bodice of a mauve and silvered brocade frock, and another of elastic pink chiffon had two silk roses tucked into the waistband.

SCIENCE IMPROVES FACE POWDER

Made Under Hydraulic Pressure.

There is a new face powder made in a new way, by hydraulic pressure. This means that it is finer and eliminates the possibility of turning to "pudding" on the face in a warm atmosphere.

The new shades of this powder are called "off flesh." There are smoky pinks, peach, amber, and blue for evening. These are also the new colours for lingerie.

WOOLLEN HATS LOSE POPULARITY.

Blocked Styles Returning

Milliners should be grateful to the hat with the pointed crown, because the success of this has brought about the downfall of the "stocking-top" woollen cap.

Those ridiculous scraps of wool and string to which women clung for so long nearly wrecked the millinery business in this country but not it is busy making blocked hats once more.

FABRIC HANDBAGS WEAR WELL.

Made In Many Materials

Fabric handbags of hand-woven dress materials are in the news.
They wear better than leather and can be taken out at night. Ribbed ottoman silk, platted crepe-de-Chine, lace, and tweed are among the bag fabrics.

Removing Soot From Rugs.

Should soot from the chimney descend on rugs or carpets, this is the way to sweep it up satisfactorily.

Cover the soot with salt and then brush up very lightly.

"FLAT" FUR COATS

Coats of flat fur like shaved lamb and broadtail wrap over the hip one side and fasten just behind (if you are slim enough) with a large chromium buckle instead of a fur button, which gets shabby so quickly.

Lounging Jamas

Two shades of bright red corduroy make these smart lounging jamamas, displayed by Fat Wing, screen player. The sweater three-quarter length jacket is belted and boasts an unusual wooden buckle. The trouser, copied from the male garment, have regular turn-up cuffs.

TULLE FOR DANCING

Tulle is being worn again for dancing. Not black, which soon looks "rusty," but coloured frocks with shoulder capes and sashes of thick moire silk.

Venison Cutlets

1 1/2 to 2 lb. venison, 1 gill of macedoine of vegetable or 1/2 lb.
boiled chestnuts, 3 oz. of lardine, bacon, 1 carrot, 1 onion, 1 bunch herbs, 1 turnip, 1 gill gravy, mashed potatoes. Piquant sauce.
Choose a nice fresh piece of venison from the leg and cut it into 6 or 7 neat round cutlets. Lard with bacon. Peel and slice the onion, wash, peel and scrape the carrot, and turnip, put them in a pan with the herbs and place the cutlets of venison on the top. Pour the gravy round, cover and cook in a moderate oven or over low heat until the venison is tender, about 20 to 30 minutes. When cooked, arrange them in a circle on a bed of mashed potatoes on a hot dish.
Pour round a little piquant sauce and fill the centre with a mace-doine of vegetables or cooked chestnuts.

Vermicelli Pudding.

1 pint of milk, 2 oz. of vermicelli, 3 eggs, 1 oz. of butter, 2 oz. of sugar, the grated rind of half a lemon. Put the milk on to boil and when boiling drop into it very gradually the vermicelli, stirring it into pieces. Stir the milk while doing this, and let it boil for 10 minutes, stirring frequently.

Then add the butter and sugar, and turn the mixture into a basin. Stir occasionally and when cool add the eggs, well-beaten, with the grated rind of 1/2 a lemon. Pour the mixture into a buttered dish and bake for about 35 minutes or until set in a moderate oven.

Puree of Tomato

3 cups cooked tomatoes, one salt-spoon soda, 2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour.
Rub tomatoes through a sieve, add the soda to prevent the acid of the tomatoes curdling the milk. Scald the milk, melt the butter, add flour and pour on gradually the scalding milk, cook thoroughly stirring well.
Blend tomatoes and milk mixture,
reheat and serve with fried crou-tons.

Cheese Souffle

3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup boiled milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, a pinch of cayenne, 1/4 cup grated cheese, yolks of 3 eggs and whites of 3 eggs. Melt butter, add flour, and when well mixed add gradually boiled milk. Then add salt, cayenne and cheese. Remove from stove, add yolks of eggs beaten until light. Cool mixture and set and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Pour into a buttered baking dish, and bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Serve at once.

Graham Pudding

Mix well together 1/2 cup of molasses, 1/4 cup of butter, 1 egg, 1/2 cup of milk, 1/2 teaspoon bicarbonate soda, 1 1/2 cups Graham flour, 1 cup raisins, spices to taste.
Steam 4 hours and serve with any sauce that may be preferred. This makes a showy as well as wholesome dessert.

"THE MIDSHIPMID"—KING'S THEATRE

"The Midshipmid", now showing at the King's Theatre, is just the sort of light entertainment that is appreciated by all. There are no problems set for solving, no reasons to advance for anything that is done in this bout of merrymaking.

Everything is so inconsequent that a ripple of laughter accompanies the actions of all.

Fred Kerr plays the part of the pompous economy expert, Jessie Matthews, his light-hearted daughter, and A. W. Baskcomb is seen as a lugubrious able bodied seaman.

THE ASSYRIANS: WHO ARE THEY?

The Assyrians have lost their homelands in the Hakkarl Mountains, which are now but a wilderness under Turkish dominion; they have lost their churches; they have lost even their unity. In Iraq they are treated as aliens, whose continued existence is possible only as an act of grace. To so shrewd a prospect some of them cannot bring themselves. These, numbering a few hundreds, have apparently taken to the hills in the north of Iraq.

The erstwhile Allies of the British have become enemies.

World history, when countries were ruled by Assyrians.

Assyria, the land of the "Tomb of the Unknown", is the subject of a new book, "The Assyrians", by Dr. J. A. R. Reade, published by the British Museum Press.

The book is a history of the Assyrians, from the time of the Assyrian Empire to the present day. It is a very interesting and informative book, and is well worth a read.

The book is available in paperback for 6s. 6d. and in hardcover for 12s. 6d. It is published by the British Museum Press, London.

BRIDGE NOTES

CONTRACT BRIDGE

BY ANCHORITE

XIV

(This series of articles is based on Culbertson's system of bidding).

Two Four-Card Suits

Holding two four-card biddable suits, the higher ranking suit (Spades before Hearts, etc.) should be preferred, even in a shaded suit. Unless with a very strong hand both suits should not be bid, as the distribution might be understood by partner to be 5-4 instead of 4-4.

Two-Suiters and Semi-Suiters

Hands distributed 5-5 or 5-6 are called two-suiters and hands of 6-4 or 6-4 are called semi two-suiters. One suit being stronger than another in honours must not affect the choice between two biddable suits, as the opening bid definitely promises honour strength, and distribution therefore takes precedence over honours in the bidding of such suits.

Strict Rules

The following rules are most important and must be strictly adhered to in order to give exact information to partner.

1. Holding two biddable suits of equal length (5-5 or 4-4) the higher ranking suit should be preferred in opening the bidding.

2. With distributions like 5-4 or 6-4, the longer suit should be bid first, irrespective of being major or minor, and regardless of its honour strength.

3. Suit distribution 6-5; bid the six-card suit first, unless the five-card suit is a strong major and the six-card suit a weak minor.

4. In a 7-5 distribution, bid always the longer suit first, and it should be bid twice. If possible, before showing the five-card suit.

Although it may appear to some players that, for instance, a minor suit headed by four honours would be preferable to a five-card suit headed by 1/2 honour trick only, it is only by following above rules that partner can gauge the exact manner in which the opening hand's cards are distributed.

The partner hearing a bid of first a lower value and later a higher value suit will receive a warning that his higher suit consists of four cards only, and must not be chosen unless he holds adequate trump support.

MCGUINNESS SCORES GOAL THAT BEATS SOUTH CHINA AT SOCCER

OUTSIDE LEFT REVIEWS SATURDAY'S GAMES LAU MAU MAY BE RELEGATED

South China 4 Kowloon 0

South China, playing superb football, trounced Kowloon by 4 goals to nil in their First Division soccer encounter on Saturday at Caroline Hill.

Willis, who usually plays at left back, was changed over to right back for no apparent reason, and although useful at times was inclined to stray in Jones' path. Given the difficult job of subduing the Tam Kong-pak-Tay Queung formation, he failed badly being no match for the speedy South China left winger.

Cord, in Kowloon's goal, was unfortunate in being unaided on two occasions by his backs, although this would have made little if any difference, for South China's goal was "beautiful."

Yuenman of the Argilla made an outstanding debut, and constituted the only real menace to the South China forwards. Whitfield and Timberlake, Kowloon's wing-halves were very erratic, especially in the second half when time and again they gave away corners which proved very dangerous.

Bliss and Lewis were not very strong. Bliss was often out of position and not ready to take a pass, while Lewis hung too far back to be of any help to the former.

Elliot was again very hard working, but was too closely watched by Leung Wing-chui to be of any consequence. Elliot's ground passes to his wingers were superb, but he received little encouragement.

V. White was again conspicuous, and together with Blake, formed the dangerous partnership to South China's goal. White was the only one among the forwards to realize in the closing minutes of the game that it was practically impossible to get through the South China defence and resorted to long shots some of which went very close.

South China as a team played really good football and fully deserved their win.

Fung King-cheong and Tam Kong-pak reproduced flashes of their former brilliance with a short passing game that absolutely astounded the Kowloon defence and as a result of which Fung and Tam scored two glorious "daisy-cutter" goals.

Wong Mei-shun started off disappointingly, but soon settled down to Fung and Tam's game. It is indeed a pity that Fung and Tam are not eligible for Interport honours, being residents of Canton. If they were, would have no hesitation in selecting Fung as centre, with Wong and Tam as his respective right and left inside forwards.

Probably one of the finest goals ever seen on the Caroline Hill ground was produced by Singapore's top representative in the South China team—Tay Queung-lung. His opening goal was indeed a masterpiece and took the Kowloon defence completely by surprise.

A pass from Li Tin-sang saw the Singapore player streak away on the left, pass Whitfield, and Yuenman, and swerve round Willis to make for goal. When 10 yards from Cord he changed his step and scored a marvelous goal with his right foot, the manoeuvre completely demoralizing Cord.

Tay's form on the whole was very praiseworthy, and after his recent play in the Lai Wah Cup game and on Saturday's display one comes to the immediate conclusion that he is almost as good, if not better, than either Hocquard or Bickford.

A notable absentee on Saturday was Lau Mau, South China's regular left back. I have heard from a very reliable source that as a result of his Lai Wah Cup display the selectors have decided to drop him from First Division football.

Both Li Tin-sang and Leung In-chai, who replaced Lau Mau, were outstanding, the latter more so, as he gave a superb display in a position which he vacated as long ago as 1923. Leung In-chai was very cool in his defence work, and what struck me as most notable was his first-time clearances, which is and has always been the code of South China backs.

Leung Wing-chui was his old self once again and had completely mastered over Elliot, preventing that jack-in-the-box type of centre forward from getting near the second line of defence.

Lai Kwok-wai again displayed good form and should play regularly on Saturday's form. His combination and understanding with his colleagues was good, and he never made a mistake.

In conclusion, something must also be said for South China's right wing partnership of Wong Mei-shun and Yang Shui-yuk. The former played his part in the best game this season, and his goal was indeed a masterpiece, a masterpiece of which he is justly proud.

LEUNG IN CHAN IMPRESSES.

Higgins Finds Form.

(By OUTSIDE LEFT).

Young on the right wing was perhaps the cleverest footballer on the field. His ball control and accuracy in centering playing a large part in rattling the Kowloon defence.

Timberlake was given the difficult proposition of stemming this young player's advance, but was not equal to the gigantic task. The South China winger rounding his man on innumerable occasions to flash across deadly centres.

Kowloon 1 Club 0

Everest, Kowloon's right back played a great part in the defeat of the Club, his clearances and last minute tackles leaving the Club inside idle.

The game between Kowloon and the Club in the Second Division, which the former won, was very keenly contested. The Kowloon forwards, using the more dangerous combination, particularly the left wing, P. White and Culler. Boys was good in goal.

Incidentally this was Kowloon's first win this season and they were lucky to secure the points.

Fisher and Sloan were weak on the Club Wings. Fisher got through on several occasions only to attempt a goal from an impossible angle with three inside forwards waiting for the ball in unmarked positions. Sloan, the left wing, persisted in taking the ball to the goal line and then lost it before attempting to centre. Time and again Gamble fed him with excellent passes, but the left winger badly bungled.

I would suggest that he be played at left full-back where his usefulness as a powerful left-footed kicker would be to better advantage.

Manning Ralston was undoubtedly the outstanding player on the field, his clearances under heavy pressure, and his spilling work was magnificent. While his ground passes left nothing to be desired.

Gamble again distinguished himself with a superb display at left half and should carry on with this form he should qualify for the first eleven next season. Having an unbounded amount of stamina and plenty of "go" in him, he repeatedly broke up Kowloon's right wing attacks.

Navy 5 Young Indians 0

The Navy dominated the game throughout, and had their forwards been sturdier in front of goal, would have scored even more often. The first half was fairly even, but the Young Indians could not get past the strong Navy defence. Forrest and Guy gave nothing away, while the half back trio, Barton, Mathias and Mitchell had the opposing forwards well under control. The forwards worked well together, and with the exception of Syper, all found the net on at least one occasion.

Ramzan, in goal, and Omar, at back, were the pick of the Young Indians' defence, but had a hard afternoon's work, during which they cleared well under heavy pressure. Azim was a hardworking leader, and distributed the ball well, but was up against a very strong defence, and had little chance to shine.

Borderers 0 Athletic 0

The Borderers should have won easily for they had most of the play yet could not force home their advantage. Lu Ho-chin, the Athletic goalkeeper, gave a splendid display, but the Borderers forwards shot badly and frittered away many chances. Their inside men insisted on passing in front of goal in spite of the fact that Cheng Ip-pai and Chan Lui-cheung were very quick in clearing.

The Athletic rarely troubled Jenkins and Suter, Williams having only long shots to deal with. There is no doubt that the Borderers halves mastered the Athletic forwards. Cheung Moon-wing was the outstanding Athletic player and his side two valuable points. Williams and John were the best Borderers' players.

Lincolns 5 Recreio 0

CORK played a magnificent game for the winners and worked hard throughout the match, contributing the ball to advantage, and keeping a definite check on any attack. Cork was to a large extent instrumental for the Lincolns win. Higgins found his form again, and gave the opposing defence a busy time.

Hocquard was also in great form, and sent over some delightful centres. Two of the goals coming from the left wing. Ridley and McGuinness were able supporters of Higgins, while Baldry played a much improved game. The defence was very safe, and Heath had little to do.

Silva Netto was outstanding for the Recreio, and used his head to great advantage, while Delgado in the centre half position, put in a tremendous amount of work. Marques played a great game in goal, and made some really good saves, but had no chance of saving any of the shots that passed him.

Artillery 3 East Lanes 1
The East Lanes forwards played very well, but Allen and Wroo offered a stout resistance with Pardoe touching his real form again. The game was rather scrappy with the exchange fairly even, the East Lanes displaying the better team work.

LINCOLNS TRIUMPH AT SOOKUNPOO

ESTABLISH LEAD IN RACE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

CROWD STORM GOALMOUTH

(By SPOT KICK)

A goal by McGuinness in the thirteenth minute of the second half gave the Lincolns victory over South China. Soccer League champions, by 2 goals to 1 at Sookunpoo yesterday. By their victory the Lincolns have established a lead of three points over St. Joseph's, who have a game in hand.

There was an abundance of petty, and a few more serious, fouls, and there arose another unfortunate incident which resulted in Heath, the Lincolns' keeper, and Wong Mee Shun, South China's captain, being given marching orders. The last minutes of the game were anxious ones for the Lincolns, during which Higgins was injured. An ugly scene was luckily averted when the crowd surged on to the field around the Lincolns' goal area.

ON the run of the play the Lincolns deserved their win, although Fung King Cheong had a few chances which, with a small amount of luck, would have entered the net, and thus given a different aspect to the game.

McGuinness was the pick of the Lincolns forwards, and apart from his positional play, was instrumental in scoring the winning goal as the result of a fine solo effort.

Hocquard played a much better game than of late, and sent over some well placed centres. Higgins hustled the opposing defence, but had few scoring chances. The right wing was the most dangerous, Baldry and McGuinness working well together. Ridley worked hard, both in attack and defence, and made numerous openings for his colleagues. Cork was outstanding in defence, and piled his wings with long forward passes. Ash was safe at back, but his partner was apt to get flurried.

Of the wingers Tay gave the better display, and gave Dudley and Roden a busy afternoon. Wong Wing was the hero of South China's side, and gave a remarkable exhibition of first-class "keeping." Li Tin Sang was safe at back, but Leung was unsteady under the bustling methods of Higgins.

Before a huge crowd, the game opened with the Lincolns pressing strongly, and Wong was called on to save from Higgins and Ridley. After eleven minutes play, the Lincolns opened the scoring from a penalty. Baldry had sent over a perfect centre, but unfortunately Leung In-chai handled the ball. The referee awarded a penalty, and from the spot kick, CORK made no mistake with a fast rising shot.

REFEREEING AT HOCKEY

Names Of The Forty Candidates.

WILL HONG KONG SEND TEAM TO SHANGHAI?

(By STICKS).

IT was disclosed at the last meeting of the Hong Kong Hockey Association that a reply to an Interport invitation sent to Shanghai was received in which Shanghai said that they were unable to make the trip owing to financial reasons in view of the heavy expense that would be incurred. They suggested in return, however, that a team from Hong Kong should pay a visit on or about February 3 or 4 1934, as this was the only convenient date.

This letter, with the other replies which were received, was handed over to a sub-committee, which met on Friday, but their decision will not be made public as yet.

I am officially informed that the Umpiring Board, which consists of Lt. Comdr. F. B. Leigh R. N., Capt. J. J. Lyons, and Mr. E. J. R. Mitchell, will commence their duties almost immediately. Circulars have been drawn up giving an idea of what will be required of the candidates in the examination, and will be distributed to the affiliated clubs and the following 40 candidates:

W. Woodward (Club), L. A. R. Duncan (Club), E. J. R. Mitchell (Club), A. A. Dand (Club), L. C. Mullins (R.E.), Spr. Culler (R.E.), T. Palmer (Y.M.C.A.), A. G. Kowloon.MEET ENGLAND IN "SUNDAY
HERALD" CUP

(By TOUCH JUDGE)

THE First Round of the Sunday Herald International Charity Cup between Scotland and Wales resulted in the South Wales Borderers' team, assisted by Channing, winning by three clear goals yesterday.

The side fielded by Scotland was very poor and the Welshmen were never seriously extended and should have won by a much bigger margin. Most of the play took place in Scotland's half, but there was little excitement and the two hundred or so spectators left the Kowloon Football Ground rather disappointed with the display of football.

The defence put up by Hunter, Hill and Docherty saved Scotland from a overwhelming defeat. These three and Andy Duncan and Robertson playing very well. With the exception of Grant and McQuade the Scottish forwards were poor. McQuade made many fine attempts to make headway, but received little support.

The Welsh defence was strong. Mullane and Morrison dealing effectively with the few attacks and were always on top. Channing justified his inclusion and Podmore was not missed. The Police player defended well and gave the forwards ideal ground passes. Jones and Wallace played well. Jones having a good chance to shine as an attacking half.

Harris is a decided improvement at inside right. He was the instigator of all the goal-scoring movements and gave Forrey and Matthias great passes.

A big fault with the Welsh forwards was their inability to shoot when well placed. There were numerous occasions when Hazelwood, Forrey and Harris were through, but by passing or trying to walk the ball in, they lost many opportunities.

Wales attacked continuously and Hunter was soon in action, but 25 minutes passed before they opened their account. FORREY sending a well-placed shot into the net after Hazelwood had made a good opening.

Near the interval McQuade and Grant gave G. Duncan a great chance to level the scores but the leader shot yards over the bar from close in.

Scotland tried some positional changes after the change-over, but before they had a chance to settle down, Wales were three goals up. Harris had a good shot well saved by Hunter for FORREY to rush the ball into an unattended goal, and from the kick-off HARRIS rounded two defenders to score the best goal of the game.

Robertson was very prominent after this and ran down the wing to give Lawson a chance and the winger's shot grazed the bar. Wales soon took up the offensive again and Hunter made some great saves, on one occasion pushing the ball out to Hazelwood who struck the cross-bar when a couple of yards out.

Scotland: Hunter (A.S.H.); Hill (Club); Docherty (A.S.H.); Robertson (Club); Blackburne (Police); A. Duncan (Club); (Captain); Lawson (Club); Shepherd (Police); G. Duncan (Club); McQuade (A.S.H.); and Greenfield (R.A.).

Wales: Smith; Mullane and Morrison; Wallace; Channing; Podmore or Jones; Matthias; Harris; Forrey; Hazelwood and Duncan.

Artillery Hold-Lincolns
To A Draw.

SECOND LEAGUE GAME

A T Bookpoo yesterday a very even game between the second strings of the Artillery and Lincolns resulted in a draw of one goal all.

For the majority of the game, the defences of both teams dominated play, the Lincolns being slightly superior.

The Lincolns pressed from the start, and Wood was called on to save from McGuinness and Barnaby. Woods was penalised for carrying too far, after having saved well under heavy pressure, but the free kick, taken by Worrall, was cleared.

Five minutes after the resumption, EDMUNDS received the ball on the half way line, and with a glorious burst of speed, out-distanced Edmondson and Robson, and, while running at full speed, drove the ball past Deacon. To give the gunners the lead.

The Lincolns attacked strongly after this reverse, and Clayton went close with a good drive, with Woods yards out of his goal. Toynne was sending over some great centres, and some of them should have been turned to account. Barnaby missing badly on one occasion. BARNESBY made amends towards the end of the game, however, when gathering a through pass from Worrall, he scored the equaliser with a fast rising shot which gave Woods no chance of saving.

Artillery:—Woods; Price and Law; Scott, Hunt and Clancy; Edmonds, Smith, Hopkins, Scott (T.) and Hill. Lincolns:—Deacon; Stearns and Edmondson; Maughan, Worrall and Robinson; Clayton, Evans, Barnaby, McGuinness and Toynne.

Police 2 St. Joseph's 2

THE defences dominated play in their drawn game at the Valley, but many scoring chances were thrown away. The Saints were too confident of winning, and to lose a point when victory was within their grasp must have been a rude shock. They have only themselves to blame, however, for their forwards were too careless in front of goal until well into the second half when Leonard played good safe games, and McCarthy made several great saves. Brittain and Gough, in the half back line, were responsible for breaking up many of the Saints' attacks, while Channing excelled in the latter stages of the game. The Police forwards were moderate, Ellis on the right, being good when given the right sort of pass.

Green, who was very disappointing for the majority of the game, certainly made full amends by scoring two goals just when they were needed.

For the Saints A. V. Gosano played a great game at back but was rather shaky towards the end. Gosano was not too safe, misdirecting on numerous occasions. McCarthy kept goal well, and had no chance of saving the two goals that were scored. Ellis covered the well, and was always in close attendance. Bellroo was not up to his usual form, and did nothing of note. Leonard was the pick of the forwards, with B. Gosano lending good support.

Club 2 Athletic 5

The Club defence was very good, particularly S. Strange, but the forwards did not play together as well as might have been expected. Fowler, who looked fit on the right wing, was badly neglected, and did not have half the chances he deserved. He was frequently unwatched, and had Howe frequently in front of him. He would undoubtedly have been different.

Li Kook Ki, the Athletic's goalkeeper, gave a very fine exhibition, and on his display fully merits a trial for the Interport.

CHINA PONY WINNER

NIGHT STAR HEADS WOODLAND STAG

(By Rapier.)

MR. LEO FROST HAS WON THE COLONY JOCKEYS' CHAMPIONSHIP FOR THE THIRD YEAR IN SUCCESSION AFTER BEING CHAMPION JOCKEY IN TIENTSIN IN 1930. ON SATURDAY HE RODE HIS 44TH WINNER ON WOODLAND STAG, WHEREAS LAST YEAR HE ESTABLISHED A COLONY TURF RECORD BY RIDING 57 WINNERS IN A SEASON. HAVING FOUR MOUNTS MORE THAN MR. JOHNNIE HEARD, THE CHAMPION WON A THRILLING RACE FOR HONOURS BY THE NARROW MARGIN OF FOUR WINS.

Mrs. Pearce's Trentbridge, Derby and St. Leger winner, leads the list of China ponies seen out in official flat races at the Valley, Macao and Fanling during 1933. With six wins the Dynasty stable crack leads Mr. L. Dunbar's Diana Bay, Samson's Navy Hall, Lan's Partnership and Lancashire's Warrington. Mr. Dunbar's Liberty Bay is, however, the only unbeaten pony.

E. S. K.'s Night Star heads the Australian ponies' list with two more wins than Mr. Dunbar's Woodland Stag, who beat her for the first time in five starts at the Valley on Saturday.

Below will be found the complete statistics for official races at the Valley, Macao, and Fanling during the 1933 flat racing season which concluded on Saturday:

MUI-TSAI PROBLEM IN HONG KONG.

Anti-Mui-Tsai Society Annual Meeting.

ACTIVITIES AND RESULTS DURING LAST YEAR.

The Anti-Mui-Tsai Society of Hong Kong held its twelfth annual meeting on Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A., under the chairmanship of Mr. Wong San-kan. A large attendance of Chinese social workers was present.

The Chairman, in his opening remarks, said that the liberation of mui-tsai from this most cruel form of child slavery still required much work, and he hoped the members would continue in their efforts.

In a lengthy review of the Society's activities during the past year the Hon. English Secretary, Mr. J. D. Bush, illustrated the mui-tsai evil with the many cases of cruelty to the slave girls which had been officially investigated.

Mr. Bush called the members' attention to the National Convention of Child Welfare Leaders in Shanghai fixed for next March which appealed for support.

Subsequently Mr. Wong Shee-tin, the Chinese Secretary, made his report for the year, which was followed by the election of Committee.

The following members were elected to form the General Committee for the ensuing year: Messrs. Wong San-kan, J. M. Wong, Wong Kam-ying, Wong Tat-kui, Mak Mui-sang, Tao Yim-sun, Chan Ming-shan, Li Kau-yan, Cheng Kong-sang, Tsui Mo-let, Cheuk Yan-ko, Chiu Fu-sang, Ho Sum-yu, Dr. Ma Luk, Wat Lok-hing, Cheung Kat-sing, J. Engineering and Building

Length And Weight Standards

Obligatory Test Every Tenth Year

AMAZING ACCURACY

The law requires that every ten years there shall be a fresh comparison of the Imperial Standards of length and mass with their parliamentary copies.

Last year was one of the appointed dates, and the work has been for some time past in progress at the National Physical Laboratory, under the direction of Mr. J. E. Sears, the Superintendent of the Department of Metrology.

The whole operation, it may be added, takes about a year to complete.

A Year's Task. So far, complete comparisons have been made of the Imperial Standard yard and four of its copies, of four other Board of Trade standards and of two reference standards belonging to the Laboratory. Corresponding comparisons of the metric standards also form part of the programme.

The instrument used is the optometer laboratory comparator, which is erected in a room the temperature of which is thermostatically controlled within 1/10 of 1 deg. C.

As a further precaution, only two observations are made per day, one of which is made in the morning after the whole apparatus has had time to settle down during the night.

The second observation is made in the evening when matters have again become quiet. The mean of the observations on the yard is stated to be accurate to 1/250,000 in.

For the comparison of the measures of weight the new precision balance recently constructed at the Laboratory has been brought into use. It is erected in an inner vault forming part of the old wine cellars of Bunhey House.

This balance was designed to measure to one part in a million when carrying one pound in each pan. It is, of course, controlled entirely from outside the chamber in which it is erected, and the readings are made by means of a spot of light reflected from a mirror carried by the beam and focussed on a scale 7 in. distant.

A Marvellous Balance. The weights to be compared are mounted on carrier plates which, by means of gearing actuated from outside the room, can be gently lowered on to the scale pans. During this operation each of these pans rests on a three-point support. These are next gently lowered, thus transferring the weight to the scale pans; and during this operation the pans are, each carried by a two-point support, and not by the beam of the balance.

These two supports are next gently lowered till the scale pans are carried by the beam. This done, the beam is, in its turn, gently lowered until it is carried by its knife edge. Provision is also made by which the weights can be transferred from one pan to another, a frame being raised under their carrier-plates and then rotated round the axis of the machine through an angle of 180 deg.

The balance is mounted on a foundation, of which the bottom layer consists of a thick bed of compressed felt and cork. On this rests a hollow brick pier. This is filled up with sand, and on the top of this sand rests the thick slab of plate which directly supports the casing of the balance and its operating gear.

The casing can be evacuated so that weighings may be made in vacuo when desired, and provision is also made that in other cases the air inside the casing shall be of standard quality.

Weighings made last year give some indication of a minute change in the relative weight of the standard pound and the standard kilogramme. The former is of platinum and dates from many years back, whilst the kilogramme is a platinum-iridium alloy.—Engineering.

REALTY COMPANY REPORT

Looking back on the records of past years, the peak of Chinese building has been passed this year, which has been a good one. Going from the new civic centre into the Eastern District of the Settlement, it is interesting to note two Chinese building operations of good size as well as many smaller ones. This is according to the Realty Investment Company.

First on Yulin Road, near Che-mulpo Road, foundations are being laid for 17 Chinese Hong.

The second is much larger on Tongshan Road, near Chusan Road, with 62 Chinese Hong and 15 Chinese shops. Plans have been submitted and accepted by the Council during the past two weeks and actual work will be started immediately.

On Route Des Seours, just off Avenue Joffre, the Asia Realty Company are building a large new Apartment Building—modern three-room apartments. The foundations are in.

Adjoining the garden of the Country Club and in back of the Ascot Apartments on Bubbling Well Road, a large group of three storied residences will be ready for occupancy November 1935.

Two new buildings have been started this week by Realty Investment Company on Amherst Road.

At the corner of Myburgh and Avenue Roads, plans have been approved for 37 Chinese Shops and 56 Chinese Hong; also on Avenue Foch, near Seymour Road, work will soon start on 2 foreign stores and 4 Chinese Houses.

In the Central District at Foo-chow and Hupen Roads, 14 Chinese houses will be started just as soon as the ground is cleared.

"Then a gigantic sign of expectancy came from every one of the spectators. The 'fun' was about to begin. James Buckland, a porter at Fenchurch-street railway station, had just sworn to tell all the truth, etc. After all, it did not amount to much. He said that at six o'clock in the afternoon of December the 10th, in the midst of one of the densest fogs he ever remembers, the prisoner, Arthur Inglewood, steamed into the station, being just about the last late was on the arrival platform, and was hailed by a passenger in a first-class carriage. He could see very little of him beyond an enormous black fur coat and a travelling cap of fur also.

"The passenger had a quantity of luggage, marked 'F.S.', and he directed James Buckland to place it all upon a four-wheel cab, with the exception of a small handbag, which he carried himself. Having seen that all his luggage was safely bestowed, the stranger in the fur coat paid the porter, and, telling the cabman to wait until he returned, he walked away in the direction of the waiting-rooms, still carrying his handbag.

"I stayed for a bit," added James Buckland, "talking to the driver about the fog and that; then I went about my business accein' that the local from Southend 'ad been signalled'."

"The prosecution insisted" most strongly upon the hour when the stranger in the fur coat, having secured his luggage, walked away towards the waiting-rooms. The porter was emphatic. "It was not a minute later than 6.15," he averred.

"Sir Arthur Inglewood said he had no questions to ask, and the driver of the cab was called."

"He corroborated the evidence of James Buckland as to the hour when the gentleman in the fur coat had entered the station, and, after he got in and out with luggage, had told him to wait. And cabby did wait. He waited in the dense fog—until he was tired, until he seriously thought of depositing all the luggage in the lost property office, and of looking out for another fare—waited until at last, at a quarter before nine, when should he have expected to see the fur coat cab and the gentleman in the fur coat cab man, who got in quickly, and told the driver to take him at once to the Hotel Cecil. This, cabby declared, had occurred at a quarter before nine.

"The next witness, Constable Thomas Taylor, had noticed a shabbily-dressed individual, with shaggy hair Dorothy Halsell, 11-year-old bride of T. J. Halsell, 67, is shown back at school in Oklahoma City after a judge had annulled her marriage. In court the child said she was wed without her consent. it was clear to me from the first that no one could have written those two letters except Smethurst. You will argue that those letters were proved not to have been written by the man in the dock—Exactly. Remember, however, that I saw a letterman who lost both envelopes. To him they were insignificant. No one was ever disproved that those letters were written by Smethurst."

"But," suggested Polly.

"Wait a minute," he interrupted, "while knot number two appeared upon the scene."—"It was proved that"—

Several days after the murder William Kershaw was alive and visited the Torrance family, and he was seen by the well-known, and where he conveniently left a pocket-book behind, so that there should be no mistake as to his identity; but it was never questioned where he had been. Francis Smethurst, the millionaire

"Surely you don't mean—?" gazed the girl.

"One moment please," he added triumphantly. "How did it come about that the landlady of the Hotel was brought into court as a witness?"

"How did Sir Arthur, Inglewood, or rather his client, know that William Kershaw had on those two memorable occasions visited the hotel and that its landlady could bring such convincing evidence to the attention of the jury?"

"The police had the means to exonerate the millionaire from the imputation of murder!"

"The police had kept the whole affair very dark until the arrest at the Hotel Gwellyn. They did not put into the papers the usual: 'If anyone happens to know the whereabouts of the person named the landlady of that hotel heard of the disappearance of Kershaw through the usual channels he would have put himself in communication with the police.' Sir Arthur Ingle-

"Point number four," Mrs. Kershaw never requested to produce a specimen of her husband's handwriting. Why? Because the police, clever as you say they are, never started down the right track. They believed William Kershaw to have been murdered;

"On December 31 what was presumed to be the body of William Kershaw was found by night lightmen; it was shown you a photograph of the place where it was found. Dark and desert like is in all conscience, is it not? Just the place where a bullet and a coward would decoy an unsuspecting stranger, murder him first, then rob him of his valuables, his papers, his very identity and leave him there to rot. It was found in a ditch, a garbage which had been ignored some time ago that was at the foot of these steps. It was in the last stages of decomposition, and, of course, could not be identified; but the police would have it that it was the body of William Kershaw."

"Ah! It was cleverly, artistically conceived. Kershaw is a genius. Think of it! His disguise! Kershaw had a shaggy beard, hair and moustache. He shaved up to his very eye-brows! No wonder that even his wife did not recognize him across the court; and remember she never saw much of his face while he stood in the dock. Kershaw was shabby, alone, he stooped. Kershaw, the millionaire, might have

"Then that lovely trait about going to the Torriani Hotel. Just a few days' grace in order to purchase mountaine and beard and wig, exactly similar to what he had himself shaved off. Making up like a pharisee. Splendid. Then leaving the car, book behind. He had to know, was not murdered. Of course. He called at the Torriani Hotel a few days after he murdered Mr. Matthews, the millionaire, and

Ultior Motive For New Invasion?

Kalgan, To-day.

Under the orders of General Soong Tse-yuen, Governor of Charhar, General Lu Kwei-tang's troops have withdrawn to Che-cheng and Tushihkow in order to avoid aggravating the new situation pending subsequent negotiations.

As a result of a brief exchange of fire when the Manchukuo-Japanese detachments surprised Hsifengchu, a Chinese garrison commander, Chang Chun-chi, was wounded and has been taken to Kalgan for treatment.

Some observers believe that the present Japanese military movement might have ulterior purposes, in spite of Colonel Shibayama's assurance that the Manchukuo-Japanese troops will withdraw as soon as bandit activities are suppressed.

It is regarded as significant that no bandit activity has been evident in the Charhar border districts.—Central News Agency.

CHINESE FINED $4,000.

Before Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Central Police Court this morning Chan Hi-chung, convicted of unlawful possession of 290 taels of non-government prepared opium, was fined $4,000, in default one year's hard labour.

Revenue Officer R. O. Grimmett, who prosecuted, said that the opium was hidden in a box intended for Canada, and asked for a heavy penalty. The opium was so cleverly concealed that it could only be discovered by an expert.

Mr. Prentiss, who appeared on behalf of the defendant, pleading guilty, said that his client received the box from another man to be delivered in Canada for $50.

of a bearer bond of the Societe Intercommunale Belge d'Electricite of Brussels, who sought the court's declaration that he was entitled to be paid in gold coin equivalent to the value ruling in the United Kingdom in September, 1928.

The House of Lords decided that the bond clause entitled the holder to be paid, both principal and interest, in gold coin, as claimed, which means that instead of £5. 10s. in paper pounds, the holder receives the equivalent of about £8 per cent. in paper pounds.
